

If this e-mail does not display properly, please view our online PDF version.

From: listserv@sml.state.tx.us
To: NMLS Applicants/Licensees
NMLS Company Contacts
CC: TX SML Listserv

Waiting Period for Retaking a Failed Test

September 29, 2010

There is considerable confusion over how long a period an individual must wait to retake either the national test or a state component test. The link provided will take you to the NMLS Resource Center's Testing site for specific information.

Basically, after the 4th failed attempt, an individual must wait a mandatory six months before beginning the test cycle again.

http://mortgage.nationwidelicensingsystem.org/profreq/testing/Documents/Test_Retake_Policy.pdf

Sandra L. Weller
Director of Licensing